PAYING PENALTY OF GREATNESS

President Wilson is Not Securing Necessary Nine Hours' Sleep.

RETIRES AT ELEVEN.

Will be But Few Social Affairs at White House Until After Extra Session of Congress is Out of Way.

Washington, March 8.—President Wilson isn't getting the nine hour sleep each night which he announced some time ago was necessary to his peace of mind and to keep him in good physical trim. Morover, if he continues the present program, he won't get the nine hours.

Ever since being Prisident, Wilson has been up a few minutes after seven—and on his four nights in the White House he hasn't been to bed before eleven and on one night until midnight. His program as a rule has been to drift back to the executive offices every night, see a few visitors and work out matters until about ten-thirty.

At four or five o'clock in the afternoon he takes an automobile ride with Mrs. Wilson, but practically all the remainder of his waking hours, is employed in work.

It appears practically certain that there would be few if any social affairs at the White House—at least in which Wilson is expected to participate—until after the extra session is out of the way.

The President could not indulge in social activities without curtailing his rest, and he has made up his mind to let nothing interfere with that except the most vital official business. His diversions for the next few months, therefore, will probably be limited to an automobile ride, an occasional short walk or the theatre, fro which the new president has a decided fondness.

Democratic Caucus.

Washington, March 8.—Distribution of senatorial "pap" was the problem before the Democratic caucus of the members of the upper house today. It was expected also that the new majority would thresh out a policy for the coming extra session.

Four candidates are seeking the lucrative job of secretary to the Senate—Robert M. Gates, a newspaper correspondent, backed by Senator Williams, James R. Baker, nominated by Senator Tillman; John W. Keller, backed by Senator O'Gorman, and James R. Wilson, brother of the President, whose candidacy is in charge of Senator Lea. There were scores of candidates for the other minor offices.

Seniority rule in the committees is to be maintained or dropped at the direction of the committees, which is meeting nightly. This body, according to its chairman, Senator Kern, has not yet reached a decision on the issue. Neither has it yet allotted the minority honors between the Republicans and Progressives.

Attempts to Bring Peace.

London, March 8.—The reply of the Balkan allies to the offer of the great powers to mediate in bringing about peace with Tuesday, will be handed to the powers on Monday according to dispatches today from Sofia. It was not stated whether the note will be delivered in Rome, where the ambassadors made the offer or in London, where the conversations of the powers ambassadors in Balkan situation began.

The Turks are again divided on the matter of peace terms, and another revolution is imminent according to advices from Constantinople.

As the result of the capture of Janina, the Greeks say they have 78,450 Turkish prisoners on their hands, and have twenty thousand others surrendered.

Man And Wife Declared Guilty.

Chicago, March 8.—Charles Conway, and his wife, Bearice Ryall Conway, former Burlesque acress and lion tamer, were found guilty today of the murder of Sophia Singer, Baltimore heiress and their benefactor, on October 6, 1912. The jury recommended life imprisonment for Conway and 14 years for his accused wife.

CLARENCE S. DARROW.

ASKED INSTRUCTIONS.

Jury in Darrow Case Believed to be Deadlocked.

Los Angeles, Cal., March 8.—Darrow jury entered courtroom at 10:11 a. m., and asked further instructions. Returned to jury room at 10:20

The jury continues deadlocked and Judge Conley will probably declare a mistrial and discharge the purors. If there are indications that the men have not abandoned hope of reaching an agreement he will hold them in their deliberations well into next week.

The general opinion her today, however, was that an agreement was practically hopeless. The latest inkling from the room was that the men stood nine for acquital and three for conviction, and the bitter wrangling of the jurors as they argued evidence which could be heard outside the room indicated that they have been having rather tumultous deliberations.

NEWS OF THE DAY.

Seven persons were injured and six business establishments, four doctor's offices, and a sanatorium were destroyed in a fire that started from an explosion of natural gas in the business district of Hot Springs, Ark., yesterday. The loss is conservatively estimated at half a million dollars. The explosion occurred in Mattar Brothers' Oriental store. It tore out the front part of the store and rendered many of those in the store unconscious. Twenty patients in Dr. E. F. Weingar's sanatorium, which was directly over the store, were rescued. There are reports that three bodies are in the ruins.

Protesting her innocence and declaring that she was an evangelist and temperance lecturer, Mrs. Rosa Ella Sheldon, fifty-five years old. A search disclosed several shirt waists and a number of pieces of cheap jewelry on the woman's person, according to the police. The police say the woman at first protested her innocence, but later admitted that she had stolen the articles found upon her person. A search of her rooms found enough to fill two suit cases. The woman's husband, Eugene Sheldon, a traveling evangelist, was arrested, but after an examination was released.

Two hundred passengers and the crew of the small British steamer Calvados were drowned March 1, when the steamer foundered in the Sea of Marmora during a blizzard. The Calvados, which was of 353 tons, plied between Constantinople and Panderma, some 60 miles southwest of Constantinople, in Asia Minor.

Twenty-three yearswas the maximum sentence for a Cumberland county, New York, chicken thief under the indeterminate sentence law imposed yesterday at Bridgeton, by Judge Tuller. The defendant was Albert Facemeyer, who had pleaded guilty to five charges of chicken stealing in the lower part of the county, it being shown that during the winter he had taken more than 1,000 chickens. The minimum term of Facemeyer will be 11 1-2 years.

After a terrific explosion, shattering the heating stove at the home of William Bombay, at Watsontown, Pa. yesterday a search of the coal pile resulted in finding a peck of dynamite. It is believed that it got there from the mines, and afterward became frozen, which prevented its exploding until it was warmed. Mrs. Bombay was in the cellar and escaped injury. Much of the furniture and all of the windows were broken.

GUESTS FLEE FROM A BURNING HOTEL

Rush Into Streets on Cold Morning in Flimsiest of Night Garments.

THRILLING RESCUES.

Although Handicapped by Water Freezing and Bursting Hose, Firemen Confine Flames.

New York, March 8.—With only the flimsiest of night garments to protect them from the better cold of an early March morning fully one hundred men, women and children, guests in the fashionable Hotel Burlington, at 10, West 30th street, fled into the early today when the building caught fire. Many of the women had to be carried down fire escapes and ladders by firemen and police. others were assisted through swirling smoke across the window ledges into the Holland House next door.

A panic among the guests followed the discovery of the fire which originated in a store room on the ground floor. Volumes of thick black smoke penetrated the entire building and the guests awakened from sound sleep by the alarmbells missed the fire escapes in their fright and rushed to the corridors shrieking for help.

Mrs. William H. Clagget, Jr., of Washington, made her way across a ledge not two feet wide into the Holland House. She then assisted Mrs. J. H. Harmon and Mrs. C. B. Stockwell, resident guests of the hotel, to safety by the same route.

Herbert S. Houston, vice-president of Doubleday, Page & Co., Mrs. Houston and their relatives, Dr. and Mrs. F. M. Burdick of Brattleboro, Vt., were on the top floor, but were assisted to the street by means of fire escape.

Sixty-five-year-old Henry Smith, who has been an employe of the hotel for 25 years, ran his elevator through the smoke for eight trips and took to the street many of the guests.

Although handicapped by freezing and bursting hose the firemen managed to keep the fire confined to the ground floor of the structure.

At the Holland House it was said later in the day that at least a score of women rescued in their night clothes were under the care of physicians there and are threatened with pneumonia.

After rescuing every one in the burning hotel the firemen made many trips to the rooms to save jewelry and other valuables, and one woman whose hysterical grief had caused spectators to believe she had a child in the ruins was made happy by the return of her pet poodle, rescued from smoke and flame by a gallant fireman.

Clash With Authorities.

The Burning Bush sect of Wilkesbarre, Pa., has clashed with the health department. Charles Young, a member of the sect, has two children down with scarlet fever, anl the patients would not take the medicine prescribed by Dr. Grir but instead they seemed to be under the power of two Burning Bush leaders, who made regular visits to the Young home and went through a lot of mysterious incantations and motions. Officers of the Health Department say children will have to receive medical treatment, and that if there is any interference upon the part of the Burning Bushers arrests will follow.

Awaits Reply to Note.

Havana, March 8.—United States Minister Beaupre today was awaiting the reply of the Cuban government to the latest note from Secretary of State Bryan, regarding the Cuban Amnesty bill.

The American legation last night was officialy ignorant of the signing of the bill by President Gomez.

It was said today that the amnesty bill's provisions would be immediately complied with and that prisoners would be liberated at once.

The signing of the amnesty measure by Gomez in the face of Secretary Bryan's note was welcomed by a certain element, as it was expected to "draw the ire" from the new secretary of state and demonstrate the power of the Latin-American people.

Horrible Discoveries.

Chicago, March 8.—A pathetic story from the white slave underworld was made public today by the Illinois Senate white slave commission in session. It was revealed to the investigating committee in executive session yesterday.

The girl who told it had been an inmate of an immoral resort and her identity was concealed under the initials "E. G."; she is a hospital a complete wreck.

Brought before the committee in an almost helpless condition, she testified that she turned to a life of shame after her husband died, leaving her to support a small child.

"The most I could earn a week was $4,' she said. "That wouldn't even buy things to eat.'

Her story of the imprisonment of a young girl who had been led astray by a cadet stunned the senators, as the details were revolting.

"Where is she now?" asked one of the probers.

"She's at the hospital, too,' answered the girl, and she sobbed. "I guess she's about gone."

"I didn't believe there was such a hell on earth," said Senator Juul today commenting on the girl's story.

After Tuberculosis Cure.

New York, March 8.—Thousands of victims of tuberculosis, hundreds of them coming from all parts of the country seeking treatment at the hands of Dr. F. F. Friedmann, the young German physician, were today hoping against hope that they might next be chosen as patients of the scientist. At the same time their interest was centered in the cases of two men and a woman, the first to receive the Friedmann treatment in this country.

Extraordinary scenes marked the first injection of the Friedmann culture to the three patients yesterday. Today the German savant was still nervous and unstrung, and while some of the physicians who witnessed the demonstration yesterday, openly denounce Dr. Friedmann others declared that he was in no condition physically to supervise the injection of his culture, much less to administer the treatment himself.

Though medical circles were greatly stirred up today by the incidents attending Dr. Friedmann's first demonstration, the more conservative elements still maintained an open mind on the subject. Inasmuch as a sample of the Friedmann culture is now in the hands of the health commissioners and three patients have received a first treatment, they believe further developments should be awaited before any judgment is passed. It is understood that about 14 days must elapse bfore the first injection will show any effect on the patients treated.

Philadelphia, Pa., March 8.—That Dr. Friederich Friedmann, the noted Berlin physician, will probably experience the same difficulties as in New York in demonstrating his purported tuberculosis cure when he arrives here next week, seemed certain today with the resignation of Dr. Solomon Cohen, medical adviser to the Jewish Consumptive Institute. Dr. Friedmann has accepted an invitation from the hospital to demonstrate his culture on March 15. Today, Dr. Cohen, one of the hospital board, who believes with the New York physicians that Dr. Friedmann should tell more about his discovery before being allowed to demonstrate it as the culmination of his disagreement with his co-workers sent in his resignation. It is stated that the hospital authorities are willing to take Dr. Cohen's advice in the matter if he will recall his resignation.

Death of Alfred Pickard.

Paris, March 8.—Alfred Pickard, enginer and former minister of the navy, died here today.

Wires Cut.

Glasgow, March 8.—Fifty-two telegraph and telephone trunk lines leading into and out of Glasgow, were cut today and "votes for women" placards left conspicuously displayed where the work was done led the police to believe that the suffragettes were responsible.

Baker Elected Secretary.

Washington, March 8.—Joseph Wilson, brother of the President, was defeated for the secretaryship of the Senate today after a two-day battle by James Baker, present assistant secretary. Baker was Senator Tillman's candidate, he was elected on the second ballot with a total of 25 votes.

REVISED LISTS OF DEAD BY EXPLOSION

Cold Weather Will Delay Recovery of Bodies of Victims.

TALES OF HEROISM.

One Baltimorean Picked up Eighteen Men—Many Volunteers as Rescuers and Risked Their Lives.

Baltimore, Md., March 8.—Revised lists of dead in the explosion on the steamer Alum Chine this morning indicated that the number will not exceed 30. Cold weather will delay the recovery of bodies and it may be weeks before the number is correctly given. The injured number twice that many, and some of these may die.

Tales of heroism of water-front men mark the second day after the great quantity of dynamite "let go." John Goodhues, a ship chandler, was almost alongside the tug, barge and tramp steamer that exploded. He was in a tiny gasoline launch and was runnng away for dear life when he thought of rescue. Back alongside as the almost tidal wave receded, he picked up 18 men and then twisted around toward Sparrow's Point. Captains of tugs gathered up many more injured. There were amny volunteers who rushed in with no thought of themselves. That is why the death list is no larger.

When the tug Atlantic, which strangely did not sink from the force of the explosion, caught fire from stern to stern, the Tugs Curtais, Bay and Reihl went alongside. They carried off her inured and not a man aboard was left behind, and then took a tow. The vessel was nearly to her city dock when she went down.

The monetary loss is placed at about $200,000. The Davison Chemical Company, at Hawk's Point, suffered more than anything else on shore. It is recalled here that gun tests at Fort Armistead, larger than the dynamite ship, did such damage that the government paid the concern $275,000. Examinations are being made today to see how much the stock was damaged during the unprecedented vibrations.

Captain Anstey of the Alum Chine, escaped because he was ashore, he was at the Customs House getting his clearance papers.

The collier Jason was left floating only by a freak. Pictures of damage done her two miles away show fearful destruction. Death reached odd places. Two men in the dining room were killed and every bit of furniture wrecked. The wireless house was shattered. And a photographher, the same distance away in another direction saw smoke from the Alum Chine in time to snap at the instant of the explosion and bring in pictures of the column of debris at the exact moment the steamer went into the air.

Killed by Automobile.

Philadelphia, Pa., March 8.—Josiah Perkins, of Brooklyn, N. Y., traffic manager of the Atlantic Refining Co., was killed here early today when his automobile skidded, turned somersault and pined him beneath it. Perkins identity at the Pensylvania Hospital was made by means of a check. He lived at 1460 57th street, Brooklyn, was 35 years old and married.

Lawrence Goul the chauffeur, disappeared after the accident and has not yet been found.

DEATH NOTICE.

On Friday, March 7th, at 11:30 P. M. LUCY E., Widow of the late Isaac M. Studds.

Farewell, dear mother, sweet thy rest,
Though suffering she breathed no murmur,
For the Comforter stod by her side
And whispered, "Fear not, I am with thee;
With me thou shalt ever abide."
O'er the river the pale boatman hastened;
She heard the soft dip of his oar;
Then from earth and its sorrows he bore her
Across the beautiful shore.

Funeral from her late residence, 719 Gibbon street, on Monday evening at 3 o'clock. (Washington papers please copy.)

NEW SENATE CHAPLAIN.

Rev. Dr. Prettyman Frequent Visitor to Alexandria.

Rev. Dr. Forest J. Prettyman, presiding elder of the Washington district of the Methodist Episcopal Church South, was nominated by the Senate Democratic caucus for Senate chaplain. He will come to his new post with plenty of experience and will not inaugurate any innovations in the position, he announced last night.

Dr. Prettyman served as substitute chaplain for the Senate many times during the long tenure of office by the Rev. Dr. W. H. Milburn, the blind chaplain, who succeeded Dr. Edward Everett Hale. He served four years as pastor of Mt. Vernon Place Methodist Church, and then went to Baltimore and for four years was pastor of Trinity Methodist Church returning to Washington recently as presiding elder of the district.

Dr. Prettyman makes occasioned visits to Alexandria, and preaches in the M. E. Church south. He has many friends and acquaintances in this city.

ALARM OF FIRE.

The alarm of fire between one and two o'clock this afternoon was caused by a dense volume of smoke which came from the cellar of the residence of Frank C. Kast, 515 Oronoco. Kast was engaged in smoking meat at the time, and his neighbors, supposing his house was on fire, sent in an alarm.

While responding to the alarm the Relief Truck collided with a nelectric train at the intersection of King and Pttt streets. The truck and pilot of the motor car was slightly damaged by the accident.

About the time the bells were ringing a boy who was riding a bicycle ran the wheel against a lady at the intersection of King and Royal streets. The latter was nearly knocked off her feet, but escaped injury.

SUFFRAGETTES AFTER HIS SCALP

Women Gather at Investigation of Major Sylvester.

NEMESES FACE HIM.

Determined That he Shall Forfeit His Position For Refusing to Protect Hikers From Rowdies.

Washington, March 8.—Before a hearing room packed with angry suffragettes who charge that he deliberately plotted, by inadequate police arrangements, to make their big demonstration last Monday a failure, Major Richard Sylvester, chief of Washington police, was scheduled today to present his defense to the senatorial investigating committee. The women are determined that Sylvester official head shall pay forfeit for the disgraceful rowdism, congestion of the streets and insults shouted by toughs at the women paraders.

Sylvester insisted today that no matter what the outcome of the Senate investigation, he would immediately call before the police board the patrolmen who were identified by witnesses before the congressional committee as permitting rowdies and failing to keep the ine of march clear. That Congress was in a measure responsible, because of failure to give him an adequate police force the explanation submitted in writing to the committee by the secretary of war Stimson is likely to be called before the investigating committee to tell how he had to order a troop of cavalry from Fort Myer to hurry over to Washington and clear the way for the suffragettes and to answer certain o fthe women's charges that he refused their appeal for co-operation of the militia with the police.

New Jersey Methodists.

Atlantic City, N. J., March 8.—As a means of meeting the attacks of the "higher critics" up on Methodist publications, and to offset to some degree the occurrences of the last few days in conference, Rev. Dr. L. W. Munhall, of Philadelphia, this afternoon addressed the New Jersey Methodist Confidence.

Bishop Thomas Neeley, retired, invited Dr. Munhall to give the preachers an old-fashioned bible talk, apparently as an antidote to the critical views that found expression of the floor of the conference Wednesday. Bishop Neeley introduced Dr. Munshall as an exponent of the bible as the truth, from cover to cover, parables, miracles, and all.

Dr. Munhall was given the platform during the devotional exercises. That his exposition of the bible as the voice of the Lord struck home with the ministers was evidenced by a chorus of "amens."

Olney Offered Post.

Washington, March 8.—President Wilson has offered the post of Ambassador to Great Britan to Richard Olney, of Massachusetts, who was secretary of State in Cleveland's second cabinet.

This was learned on reliable authority at the White House today. Olney has not yet accepted or declined the appointment. The selection wa smade by the President after consultation with Secretary Bryan and it represents the wishes of the leaders in the Wilson administration.

President Wilson is very anxious to have Olney accept the appointment, but it is understood that there is some doubt whether he will be able to do so, because of his health and his advanced age.

Secretary Bryan and Col. E. M. House of Texas, held a long conference with President Wilson today on diplomatic appointments. It was understood that they have agreed upon men for the most important posts and that announcements of their appointments will come rapidly Hingham, Mass., March 8.—Rear Admiral Joseph Eaton, U. S. N., retired, died at his home here today at the age of 64. He was appointed commandant of the Charlestown Navy Yard in 1903. In 1907 he graduated sixth honorman at Annapolis.

A resident of Fairfax county was brought before the Police Court this morning to answer the charge of cruelty to his horse. It was alleged that the countryman drove to ths city last night and left his horse standing in Market alley until this morning. The accused was fined $5. Several years ago a similar charge was made against the accused. He was told at that time that he must provide quarters for his horse, and not allow the animal to stand all night in the alley.

A youth, who was charged with disorderly conduct, was fined $5.

HELD FOR GRAND JURY

Preliminary Hearing Before United States Commissioner Yesterday—Four Women in City Jail

As a result of the preliminary hearing before U. S. Commsioner R. P. W. Garnett, yesterday, following an investigation by the Department of Justice, Minnie Hahn, alias Minnie Smith, proprietress of a resort on North Lee street, was held for the action of the grand jury, charged with violation of the White Slave act and four young girls, Mary Evans, Florence Williams and Nellie Gross and May Stuart were held as witnesses. The Hahn woman gave bail in the sum of $2,000 for her apeparance before the July term of the United States district court but the four girls were locked up in the city jail as they were unable to furnish bond of $200 each.

U. S. Commissioner Garnett stated today that he had made arrangements to have the girls taken to the Florence Crittenton home in Washington where they will be taken care of until the next term of the court.

The woman was charged with bringing four girls to Alexandria from Philadelphia for immoral purposes. The principal witness for the government was Welter E. Newmant, a veteran conductor of Pennsylvania railroad, who testified that the woman and the four girls were passengers on his train and that the fare of the entire party was paid by the woman who gave him a miltage book and also $4 of $5 in cash. Other witnesses were Carl Brehm, of Philadelphia, Thomas J. Fitzmorris and James A. Lambert. The girls denied that they had come to Alexandria with the woman.

The Hahn woman took the stand and denied the charge as urged against her by the government. The women were in Alexandria when she got here, she said, and she denied paying their railroad fare. The women also denied the charge that the accused paid their fare.

The government was represented at the hearing by Frank L.Garbarino, special agent in charge of the bureau of investigation, Department of Justice of Philadelphia, and Agent Leverett F. Englesby, of the Department of Justice from Washington. L.H. Machen represented the accused.

The four women, while being conveyed to the city jail by Deputy Marshall Schoeni and the other government officials wept bitterly when they learned that they were to be deprived of their liberty for some time to come.

CARRIES OFF CHICKENS

Negro Brings Fowls to Watchman's Box and Falls Asleep—Makes Escape

A prowler entered the premises of Thomas Popkins in Fairfax county, a short distance west of this city, last night and carried off a number of chickens.

Later in the night the railway watchman at the Telegraph Road crossing of the Washington-Southern and Southern Railways entered his box and found a negro asleep. The latter awoke as soon as the watchman appeared and fled in a hurry. In his flight he collided with a barb wire fence and fell, but was on his feet again in the twinkling of an eye and dsappeared in the darkness. Upon an examination the watchman found ten chickens, minus their heads, in the box. The fowls evidently belonged to Mr. Cockrell.

James W. Roberts notified the police this morning that a number of chickens were stolen from his premises last night.

At a meeting of Potomac Lodge of Odd Fellows, which was held last night four candidates were elected. H. E. Arnold was elected representative to the Grand Lodge which meets in Roanoke in May, and J. T. O'Meara, alternate. William R. Studds was recommended for the position of district deputy grand master. The lodge accepted an invitation to confer the degrees of the order for Sarepta lodge next Wednesday.

LAMBERT-BARRETT CASE.

Judge J. K. M. Norton and Judge C. E. Nicol will leave for Richmond tomorrow night to be present at the session of the Supreme Court of Appeals on next Monday morning when the Lambert-Barrett contested council case will be argued by them.

BROKEN JAW.

A delivery wagon belonging to Charles King, Sons & Co., of this city, was struck by a street car in Washington last Tuesday and the driver, Philip Shackelford, was thrown to the street. It was at first supposed that he had escaped without serious injury, but it now appears his jaw was broken in the accident. He resides on Gibbon street.

CARGO OF ICE ARRIVES.

The schoner Clarence H. Venner, from Rockport, Me., loaded with ice for the Mutual Ice Company, of this city, arrived at this port at an early hour this morning. Another schooner is being loaded at the same place for the Mutual Ice Company.

CIRCUIT COURT.

A decree was entered in the Circuit Court for the city yesterday in the case of G. L. Appich vs. the Bell Pre Bottling Co., et al. of Washington, allowing the receiver to turn over certain assets to Firman H. Horner, trustee for the stockholders. The court later adjourned till Tuesday.

NEWS OF THE OLD DOMINION.

ALLENS LEARN OF FATE.

Claude Gives Way When Bidding Sweetheart Good-by.

Richmond, March 8.—"It looks like I never could get injustice," said Floyd Allen yesterday morning when he was told that Governor Mann had refused to grant him or Claude commutation.

"I am sorry Claude did not let them shoot me down. My boy was merely trying to save my life. Now he must lose his."

Guard Reid R. Penn broke the news to the two condemned mountaineers yesterday morning. He handed them two newspapers, and said, "The Worst has happened."

Both men had been expecting mercy and were greatly shocked. Their faces blanched, but only for a moment. Then they were the same cool mountain men, even though looking into the face of certain death.

Miss Wisler and Victor Allen were at the penitentiary yesterday morning, and they spent several hours with Floyd and Claude.

"O, Claude, Claude!" sobbed the girl, giving down completely and leaning against the cruel bars which separated her from her boyhood sweetheart.

"There there, little girl! Don't cry," said Claude gently pressing her hands to his lips, though his own eyes filled with scalding tears.

Victor greeted his father and brother without words. They merely clasped hands in the strong, terrible grip of mountaineers, while they gazed into each other's eyes.

For over a minute neither could speak. Then they fell to talking quietly, discussing matters of trivial importance, as if evading the frightful vision which haunted their brains. Victor finally said he expected to go home last night, though he will probably return to Richmond before March 28th—the date set for the electrocutions.

"Tell them goodbye for me, my boy," said Floyd. "Tell them goodbye. I'm afraid I'll never see the mountains again, but you won't forget your old dad, will you?"

Dr. George W. McDaniel, of the First Baptist Church, was also a visitor at the penitentiary, and his administrations were greatly appreciated by the Allens. He held a brief religious service. Both Floyd and Claude, who at heart have deep religious beliefs, were visibly affected and both seemed to be strengthened.

The two condemned men are kept under closest guard, though they are allowed many little privileges which will make the few remaining days of life easier and more pleasant. They will be allowed to receive a few visitors, and for this privilege they are deeply grateful to Major James B. Wood, prison superintendent.

Miss Wisler and Victor Allen heard the news, of course, as both were in town. Miss Wisler was prostrated, as she had hoped and believed through the long heart-rending days that Governor Mann would decide differently, and would at least save Claude Allen's life. She passed a sleepless night, and today shows the effects of her terrible disappointment.

Claude's bearing and forces cheerfulness put her in better spirits, but she is, as a matter of fact, very ill, and but for her indomitable courage would be in bed.

Miss Wisler expected to return to the penitentiary yesterday afternoon. She will remain in Richmond until Sunday, according to present plans, when she will bid her sweetheart a long goodbye and go back to her mountain home.

"I'm sorry I must leave tonight," said Victor, "but I know mother needs me. She wants to come to Richmond but unable to get about very much. I know the news has nearly killed her, and so I must hurry back to her. She needs me. Of course, I am coming back to Richmond if I can."

Said Miss Wisler: "I am going to spend as much time with Claude as possible. When I am not in Richmond I write to him every day. He writes to me almost every day. Major Wood has been very kind to Claude and Mr. Floyd Allen. He lets them write whenever they want to, and we very deeply appreciate his kindness of heart."

It is not likely that either Miss Wisler or Victor will make further attempts to see Governor Mann, as he has indicated that his decision is unalterable.

Roanoke, Va., March 8.—Judge N. H. Hairston and R. H. Willis, chief counsel for Floyd and Claude Allen, were visibly affected at the decision of Governor Mann in refusing to interfere with the verdicts of the court. Mr. Willis is preparing an answer to the Governor's review of the case. He stated that, although the Allens are to die in the electric chair, that the statement issued by the Governor is so biased in favor o tthe contentions go to an ignominious death that is grave an injustice to hiz client shall not go unnoticed.

Mr. Willis charges the Governor with using the same arguments presented by Attorney John S. Draper for the Commonwealth at the Richmond hearing, in substance, if not in the very words, and says that the Governor has entirely ignored in his summing up any of the evidence or points produced in favor of the Allens.

Asked as to the proposed prosecution of Dexter Goad for the part he played in the Hillsville tragedy, the attorneys declared that the matter had not been abandoned They averred that the funds of the Allens have been completely exhausted, but it is probable that a poular subscription will be raised to push the charges against the court clerk. They say there is not the slightest doubt that he can be convicted of perjury both by living witnesses and by documentary evidence.

RIGHTS AGAIN AFFIRMED.

Rules Statute Regulating Telegraph Companies is Valid.

Richomnd, March 8.—Once more has the Supreme Court of Appeals of Virginia decided that the State law covering transmission of telegrams is valid even when the messages have come from another State. The point raised this time was new, but met the same fate with its predecessors, which attacked the operations of the statute.

A writ of error was refused Thursday to the Western Union Telegraph Company which appealed from Law and Chancery Court of the city of Norfolk in the suit against it of J. C. Major, jr. The statutory damage of $100 was awarded Major for delay in delivery of a telegram sent him in Norfolk from Baltimore.

It was contended by counsel for the telegraph company, in the petition for appeal, that the recent act of Congress giving the Interstate Commerce Commission jurisdiction over the business of telegraph and telephone companies, takes away from the states the right of regulation over interestate messages. Admitting that prior to the enactment, the State could properly make laws of this sort, it was argued that such right ended with the assumption by Congress of specific regulation of interstate traffic.

The law referred to classes telegraph and telephone messages as common carriers.

CHILD BADLY BURNED.

Richmond, March 8.—While playing alone in a room of his home Thursday evening about 7 o'clock, Edlow Wright, the five-year-old son of Mrs. A. E. Wright, of 1121 North Twenty-seventh street fell into an open grate, in which a hot fire was blazing, and received burns which may prove fatal. The screams brought his mother quickly to the room, and she smothered the flaming clothes after heroic efforts.

A hurry call was sent in for the city ambulance, and Dr. H. T. Hawkins responded. After doing everything possible for the allevation of the boy's suffering the ambulance surgeon turned the case over to the family physician.

URGES A PROTEST.

Reading of Bible in Richmond Public Schools Opposed.

Richmond, March 8.—Vigorous protest against the action of the City School Board in requesting the daily reading of the Bible in the public schools was laid before the board Thursday night by delegations representing the Baptist Ministers' Conference of Richmond the First Baptist Church, the Grove Avenue Baptist Church and the Beth Ahabah Synagogue. Contending for the absolute separation of church and state and for the noninterference of the civil authorities in religious matters as basic principles of government, any infringement of which should be resisted to the utmost, the protestants saw in the School Board's action the entering wedge to a religous test in the selection of teachers, and the injection of the question of religious beliefs into the selection of members of the School Board itself.

City Attorney Henry R. Pollard, an officer of Grove Avenue Baptist Church and a teacher of a men's Bible class for the past thirty years, headed the delegation, presenting as speakers for the protestants Rev. George W. McDaniel, D. D., pastor of the First Baptist Church; Rev. R. H. Pitt, D. D., editor of the Religious Herald; Dr. E. N. Calisch, of Beth Ahabah Synagogue and Rev. Mr. Weatherby, of the Unitarian Church.

The board adjourned without taking any action, after a brief debate. When the delegation, which had requested an opporunity to file a remonstrance, retired, the clerk presented fifteen communications from organizations favoring the daily reading of the Bible in the schools, including several Baptist men's Bible classes, the Methodist and Presbyterian Ministers' Associations and other organizatons.

Members differed as to the wisdom of reconsidering the former action in order to reopen the whole question with a view to a public hearing, when all parties might be heard. Those on the affirmative desired a hearing only in the event that the question is reopened, in which case Mr. Pollard stated that he would desire to reply. In the absence of the author of the resolution, Mr. Kimbrough, the board adjourned without taking any action the resolution standing as at first adopted, with the resolutions of remonstrance on the table. At a subsequent meeting a motion to reconsider will be taken as a test to see whether any member have changed their views, and in the event that it is lost, there will be no necessity for a further hearing.

Showing that the founders of this nation had fought for religious freedom, not for mere toleration, Mr. Pollard quoted at length from the writings of Washington, Madison and others holding that the order was unsound in that it directs State employes paid from State funds, to conduct a daily act of religious worship.

Dr. Pitt presented a carefully prepared paper expressing the views of the bodies which have taken formal action against the daily reading of the Bible. He held tha tthe board's request to the teachers was, under the circumstances, a command. Since no comment or explanation of the daily Scripture reading was to be allowed, the exercise, he held, was not a matter of teaching, but a religious service It was the deep conviction of the petitioners that the state had no right, through the School Board or its subordinates, to assume control of the religious life or any part of the community.

MANDATE CAUSES EMBARRASSMENT.

When former President Roosevelt, by an order issued from the White House, directed that army and navy men should take various kinds of athletic exercises, consisting of bicycle riding, horseback riding and long hikes over the country, he caused a great amount of surprise in service circles; when President Taft, a few months ago, directed that something like 50,000 fourth-class postmasters located throughout the country should be placed under civil service rules, he, likewise, caused the country to take notice; but it has remained for President Wilson to cause the biggest surprise of all by issuing his first executive order that patronage matters will be discussed with Congressmen only when the national lawmakers are sent for.

It is probable that no other order that will be issued from the White House during the four years that President Wilson is there will cause quite as much astonishment among Senators and House members, or so much embarrassment, which, of course, was not contemplated by the President, as the promulgation of this order.

Already half a dozen Congressmen have visited the White House since the order was issued, and have gone away more or less embarrassed. They did not believe that the President meant to enforce the order literally, and they desired, if possible, to ascertain whether it was not possible, in some diplomatic and tactful manner, to sidestep the proposition.

They have found that the order was issued to stick, after mature deliberation for the best plan for dealing with the troublesome patronage question, and that at least until the President becomes adjusted to his new position or finds it necessary to ask the Congressmen to visit him, department heads will be given full authority to deal with the appointments coming under them.

The practical effect of this order is that many Congressmen who had previously promised their constituents that they should be taken to the White House as soon as the new President came in and their cases laid before him if they were after positions, are wondering what to do. Some have written the place-hunters to whom the promises have been made of the situation, and have advised them that under the circumstances patience must be exercised, while a few have admitted that for the time being they are at their wits' ends. It is an embarrassing situation, not only for the Congressmen, but for their constituents also, and it is not improbable that a modification of the order may be asked within the near future.

SMILES.

By The Second Ward Bard.

THE DIFFERENCE.

It's easy enough to look pleasant
when you have all you want and to spare, It's easy to smile and be sunny when you haven't a grief or a care,
But let's see that smiling continue when the worn-out old shoes on your feet
Are filling with slush as you shuffle along, through the wind, and the rain and the sleet.

It's really a cinch to be happy when you reach in your pocket and feel
The cash that will bring you all comforts, and you know you can't want for a meal,
But let's see that bright smile of joy that knows neither sorrow nor tears,
When your landlady ties up your wages for a board-bill three months in arrears.

And it's not such a task to be merry
when you're well and as strong as a horse,
And you digest your feed like an ostrich and no stuff that you eat brings remorse,
But let's see your happiness linger
when Welsch rarebit has doubled you up,
And you have to eat toast for your breakfast and on toast you must dine and must sup.

It's right much the same with all people, they smile when the good things come 'long,
And life seems just chock full of sunshine and sweet as the mocking bird's song,
But the smile and the song are both absent and you don't want to laugh or to shout,
When Fate has just hit you a wallop,
and the referee's counting you out.

It seems that one of our citizens has the idea that one of our near poems referred to him, and he's a bit peeved. Friend, if the shoe fits, put it on.

If this weather keeps up we'll have to get out our old red wool ones again, which we discarded in those balmy days when the suffragettes were marching and Woody was being inaugurated.

How-de-do, Jim Peyton,
We like the stuff you write,
As a journalistic scribe
You're simply out of sight.

We wish you luck, Jim Peyton,
And so we'll drink this toast,
"May your friends serve you as faithfully
As you have served The Post."

Fatally Burned.

Youngstown, O., March 8.—Staggering back into a burning apartment house to rescue her baby, Mrs. Mary Maltka was so badly burned early today that it is not believed she will live. The child was severely burned about the body, and six other persons are in the hospital after having escaped from an apartment house in East Youngstown, which had been fired by an explosion. The building was badly damaged.

Pope Suffering From Grippe.

Rome, March 8.—Pope Pius X is suffering from an attack of grippe, complicated by bronical trouble, it was announced this afternoon from the Vatican, and all audiences were suspended indefintely.

The Strike in Paterson.

Paterson, N. J., March 8.—With William D. Haywood in full charge of the situation following his stirring speeches at two mass meetings of strikers today the outlook for a speedy settlement of the differences in favor of the silk workers appeared good.

The strikers were urged today to hold firm to their demands and they showed no intervention of returning to the mills.

Letter of Protest.

Akron, O., March 8.—Alleging that the police exceeded their powers, rubber strikers here today sent a letter of protest to Governor Cox reciting their side of the fight between the police and strikers lastr night in which four rubber workers were injured. Two are in the hospital today with cracked heads.

The legislative probe into the strike situation was resumed today.

Charlotte, P. E., March 8.—St. Dustin's R. C. Cathedral built a few years ago at a cost of $300,000 was totally destroyed by fire today. It was the finest Canadian Church edifice outside of Montreal.

CASE OF RAYMOND STRUDER.

Many Unmuzzled Dogs on the Streets of Alexandria.

J. P. Leake, Assistant Surgeon U. S. Public Health Service, makes the following report in this week's Public Health Reports on the case of Raymond Struder, the little boy, of this city, who recently died after having been attacked by a bull dog.

Cases of human rabies are sufficiently rare to justify the report of single instances, for only by the collation of the data of numerous observers can the variant symptomatology be clearly defined. The experience of one individual is hardly enough for the numerical method.

The present case was seen in consultation with Dr. Warfield and Dr. Hugh McGuire, of Alexandria, Va., and it is reported through their courtesy. The patient, a white boy, aged 3, was bitten December 13, 1912, by a large bulldog whose identity is uncertain. The wound was a severe laceration of the right cheek, about 4 inches long, irregular, and reaching nearly to the corner of the mouth. It was cleaned, irrigated with corrosive sublimate solution and sutured on the day of the occurrence. No abnormalities were noted in healing. On the evening of February 10, 1913—the sixtieth day after the bite—the child was taken sick wth pain in the region of the wound and in the throat, some pain in the abdomen and left ear, and vomiting. Spasms on attempting to drink soon became pronounced and it was stated that the patient had taken nothing by mouth since the onset of symptoms save a small part of a hypnotic dose. There was said to have been no bowel movement since 48 hours before onset. The outstanding symptoms had been the severe and frequent spasms of deglutition and the vomiting.

When seen by the writer at noon of February 13, two and a half days after onset, the condition of the patient was said to be improved. He was conscious and rational, very weak but moved all parts of his body in bed, somewhat restlessly. The right cheek presented the red scar of the wound above described. His articulation was not distinct though his jaws and lips moved readily. He said that he was not suffering much and no marked tenderness was found, only general irritability. There was no paralysis made out, and the throat and abdomen were normal. The tongue had a thick, moist, greenish coat; salivary secretion was slightly increased, but to no such degree as is often noticed in rabies. The axillary temperature was 100.4 and the pulse about 180, but feeble and at times imperceptible at the wrist. Even when lying quietly in bed there were slight spastic movements of the throat and mouth muscles; these were increased by fanning, and the patient complained when fanned. He reached for a glass of water as if thirsty, but the spasm was much increased when the water touched his lips, so that none reached the mucous membrane. He said that the feeling of water on the scar was painful. By means of a spoon some water was introduced into his mouth, and immediately a violent convulsion began, involving principally the throat, face, and head muscles, with respiratory spasm. This lasted for about half a minute.

In this case as in the majority of cases the typical symptom of spasm or convulsion at attempted or even suggested deglutition of water was the one sign which made the diagnosis clear. There was no possibility of feigning or hysteria; a critical observer of the patient could not consider lyssophobia here. The length of the incubation period would exclude tetanus were it not for the fact that an unnoticed injury may have been received subsequent to the dog bite; however, the muscles of mastication were not involved and the jaw could be opened readily. There was no definite evidence of meningeal irritation, such as stiffness of the neck, nor of breaks in the reflex arcs, as would have been expected in a case of poliomyelitis. The history as well as the local examination excluded irritability from a local injury to the throat.

The boy died at 4 a. m., February 14, two months after the injury and three days after onset of symptoms. No autopsy was obtainable. This is the third known death from hydrophobia in Alexandria and vicinity in the last five years. None of the patients had received antirabic treatment.

The writer can not conclude this clinical report without remarking on the number of unmuzzled dogs seen at large on the streets of Alexandria, in spite of the fact that the progress of rabies through the United States would indicate that hardly any region can be considered free from infection. The disease in man appeals particularly to the instincts of prevention in that children are the most frequent victims. It is to be hoped that public sentiment in this country may soon be awakened to the extent that an unmuzzled, unleashed dog at large will be a rarity—and thus many valuable animals be saved, as well as the lives of many children.

Alienists yesterday examined the first "crank" of the Wilson administration. The man gave his name as Dr. Charles A. Schwab, of Dallas, Texas. He is being detained in the Washington asylum, in which institution he was placed Tuesday when arrested by Secret Service men on his arrival in Washington. The man said he was on his way to the White house to be sworn in as President and he had in his possession a number of written messages purporting to have been sent to him by Chief Justice White, of the Supreme Court. It is believed that he wrote them himself.

MUSTEROLE

No Plaster! No Blister!

Everybody knows how the good old fashioned mustard plaster relieves a cold, an ache or a pain.

Your mother and your grandmother always applied it. The plaster burned awfully. But it surely brought relief.

MUSTEROLE is the same remedy without the plaster and without the blister.

MUSTEROLE is a clean, white ointment, made with the oil of mustard. You don't have to bother with a cloth. You simply rub Musterole on the spot where the pain is—rub it on briskly—and the pain is gone!

Not a blister is left, even on tender skin! Instead it has a delicious, comforting effect.

There is nothing like MUSTEROLE for Sore Throat, Bronchitis, Tonsilitis, Croup, Stiff, Neck, Asthma, Neuralgia, Headache, Congestion, Pleurisy, Rheumatism, Lumbago, Pains and Aches of the Back or Joints, Sprains, Sore Muscles, Bruises, Chilblains, Frosted Feet, Colds of the Chest (it prevents pneumonia). Millions of jars of MUSTEROLE are sold annually.

It is a staple in the large hospitals. Doctors and nurses use it and recommend it to patients. Ask your doctor.

At your druggist's, in 25c and 50c jars, and a special large hospital size for $2.50.

If your druggist cannot supply you, send 25c or 50c to the Musterole Company, Cleveland, O., and we will mail you a jar postpaid.

Doctors tell How Musterole Relieves.

Dr. J. P. Frey, Chicago, Ill., says: "I prescribe your Musterole every day. Use it in all cases of alveolar abscess and inflammation."

Salves Can't Cure Eczema

In regard to skin diseases, medical authorities are now agreed on this:

Don't imprison the disease germs in your skin by the use of greasy salves, and thus encourage them to multiply. A true cure of all eczematous diseases can be brought about only by using the healing agents in the form of a liquid.

WASH THE GERMS OUT.

A simple wash: A compound of Oil of Wintergreen, Thymol, and other ingredients as combined in the D.D.D. Prescription. This penetrates to the disease germs and destroys them, then soothes and heals the skin as nothing else has ever done.

A 50 cent bottle will start the cure and give you instant relief.

We have made fast friends of more than one family by recommending this D.D.D. Prescription to a skin sufferer here and there, and we want you to try it now on our positive pay guarantee. D.D.D. Soap keeps the pores clean; ask us.

"My Guests Are Coming Tomorrow!"

When expecting guests, the housewife often finds it necessary to call upon the local dealers for quick service. A window-shade breaks, or a new rug is needed—perhaps the piano needs tuning—or something special in the way of food supplies may be wanted. It's handy to step to the telephone and order what is needed. Telephone orders always receive prompt attention.

A WARNING.

To Whom it May Concern:

It having been called to our attention that there is an Order, the members and councils of which are endeavoring to leave the impression on prospective candidates, and the public that they are a branch or auxiliary of the Junior Order United American Mechanics, of Virginia, Inc., we feel that we should make a brief statement of the status of our Order.

On February 17, 1900, the General Assembly of Virginia granted our Order a charter to do business in this State. At the time there was doing business in Virginia the National Council, Junior Order United American Mechanics.

On the 29th day of June, 1901, our branch of the Order brought suit in the Chancery Court of the City of Richmond to prohibit the National branch from using our name, or any name of like import, and from using a seal with the name of Jr. U. A. M on it, and from carrying out the objects for which we were organized.

On the 21st day of July, 1904, the Chancery Court decided that our Order was the only branch authorized to do business in Virginia, and in it decree the following language is used

"And the Court doth further adjudge, order and decree that the said National Council of Junior Order United American Mechanics of the United States of North America, and the other defendants to the said bill * * * * * * * * be and they are hereby, jointly and severally, perpetually enjoined and restrained from continuing the use within the State of Virginia of the name of the State Council of Virginia, Junior Order United American Mechanics of the State of Virginia, or any other name of like import likely to taken for that of plaintiff; and from the use of the seal of said plaintiff within the State of Virginia; and from carrying out, within the State of Virginia, under the name of the plaintiff, or any name of like import, any of the objects for which the said National Council of the Junior Order of United American Mechanics of the United States of North America, or the said voluntary Association organized on or about the 2nd of March, 1901, as aforesaid were organized; and from using within the State of Virginia the name of the said plaintiff or any other name of like import in the pursuit of the objects for which the said plaintiff was chartered * * * * * * * * * and that the said National Council of the Junior Order of United American Mechanics of the United States of North America, and the said voluntary association organized on or about March 2nd, 1901, as aforesaid, and their agents and officers be, and they are hereby, perpetually enjoined and restrained from designating their officers within the State of Virginia by the appelations set forth in the bill used by the plaintiff for its officers or agents, and from continuing the use in the State of Virginia of said appellations."

The National branch of the Order felt itself aggrieved by the decree above quoted from, and the case was appealed to the Supreme Court of Virginia, and then to the highest court in the land—the Supreme Court of the United States, and was in both of these latter courts decided in favor of our branch of the Order.

The National Branch of the Order then applied to the State Corporation Commission for a charter and on the 29th day of December, 1906, the same was granted to it as the "Virginia Branch of the Junior Order United Americans"?

Our branch of the Order considering that this was violation of injunction granted by the Chancery Court petitioned said court to summon the said officers of the National Branch before it to show cause why they should not be fined for contempt of court.

This the said Court did, and on the 8th day of May, 1907 entered its decree as follows:

"And the matter of the said rule having been fully argued by counsel, and maturely considered by the Court, the Court doth adjudge, order and decree that the respondents to said petition * * * and each of them have disregarded and disobeyed the decree of this court, entered on the 21st day of July, 1904, which has been heretofore affirmed by the decree of the Supreme Court of Appeals of Virginia and by the Supreme Court of the United States, in the following respects, viz: In disobeying the requirements of the act of the General Assembly of Virginia, passed on February 17th, 1900 * * * * * * and in disobeying so much of said decree as enjoined the carrying out within the State of Virginia under the name of the plaintiff, or any other name of like import, any of the objects for which the National Council of the Junior Order of United American Mechanics of the United States of North America, or the said voluntary association, were organized; or in using in Virginia the name of the plaintiff, or any other name of like import, in the pursuit of the objects for which the said plaintiff was chartered * * * * * and in disobeying so much of said decree as prohibited the National Council and the said voluntary association, their agents and officers, from designating their officers in the State of Virginia by the appellations set forth in the plaintiff's bill for its officers and agents, and continuing the use in the State of Virginia of said appellations.

And the Court, desiring to compel obedience to said decree, doth adjudge, order and decree that that persons above named be and they are, fined the sum of twenty-five dollars each, and the same shall be paid by them, respectively, to the clerk of this court within 35 days from this date, and in default of such payment, each of said persons shall stand committeed to the custody of the sheriff of this city to remain in jail until said sums be paid by them respectively."

This case was also appealed to the Supreme Court of Appeals of Virginia, and the Supreme Court of the United States, but was affirmed by these Courts.

It will be seen from the above quotations from the court's decision that the officers aid members of any Order which has our name, or any name of like import, and which undertakes to carry out the objects or our Order, or which interferes with our Order in carrying out its objects, or which uses the seal of our Order, is in contempt of court.

It is not our desire to resort to the Courts, but we feel that it is an obligation which we owe to our members, to see that the injunction order of the Chancery Court of the City of Richmond is not violated.

The foregoing is published as a warning to the general public.

E. B. WHARTON,
State Councilor.

426 N. 34th St., Richmond, Va.
March 8th to 12th.

In the Corporation Court of the City of Alexandria, Virginia, on the 5th day of February, 1913, Samuel Harrington complainant, against Minnie Lemuel Butler Harrington, defendant.

An affidavit having been been duly made as required by law, that the defendant is a non-resident of the State of Virginia, and that her last known place of address, residence and abode was 1218 King street, Alexandria, Virginia, and that she cannot be found within the jurisdiction of this court and the Sergeant having made a return upon the orginal process issued herein that the defendant is a non-resident of his bailiwick, and application having been duly made in open court for an order of publication against said defendant to appear and answer a bill in chancery filed by the complainant against the defendant for an absolute divorce on the ground of adultery, the object of complainant's suit being stated to be as follows, to-wit: The object of this suit it to obtain for complainant an absolute divorce from the defendant on the ground of adultery; to obtain custody of complainant's infant daughter Kathleen Elnora Harrington aged 7 years; to declare defendant's interest as wife in complanant's property extinguished; and for general relief, and order of publication having been duly granted in open court, it is therefore ordered that said defendant do appear here within fifteen days after due publication hereof to answer said suit and to do what may be necessary to protect her interest in said suit.

And it is further ordered that a copy of this order be published according to law once a week for four successive weeks in The Alexandria Gazette, a newspaper published in Alexandria City, Virginia, and that a copy be sent by registered mail by the Clerk of this Court to the last known place of abode of defendant, to-wit: 1218 King street, Alexandria, Virginia, as stated in the application for the order of publication which shall be certified by the Clerk to the Court, and that a copy be posted at the front door of the court house of this court on or before the next rule day of ths court.

THE TEST THAT TELLS.

Is The Test of Time. Many Alexandria People Have Made This Test.

Years ago this Alexandria citizen told in a public statement the benefit derived from Doan's Kidney Pills.

The statement is now confirmed—the testimony complete. Instances like this are numerous. They doubly prove the merit of Doan's Kidney Pills. Can any Alexandria reader demand more convincing proof? It's Alexandria testimony—it may be investigated.

Mrs. Anine Scott, 110 Prince street, strong friend to Doan's Kidney Pills Alexandria, Va., says: "I am the same today, as I was in 1910 when I publicly told of the cure they had made for me. This cure has been lasting, but I occasionally use Doan's Kidney Pills as a preventive. I had pains in my back and I could not rest well. In the morning I always felt tired and worn out, and I also had dizzy spells. Doan's Kidney Pills did such good world that it is a pleasure to recommend them to other kidney sufferers."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name—Doan's and take no other. 2.

Mrs. A. R. Taber, of Crider, Mo., had been troubled with sick headache for about five years, when she began taking Chamberlain's Tablets. She has taken two bottles of them and they have cured her. Sick headache is caused by a disordered stomach for which these tablets are especially intended. Try them, get well and stay well. Sold by all dealers.

If your children are subject to attacks of croup, watch for the first symptoms, hoarseness. Give Chamberlain's Cough Remedy as soon as the child becames hoarse and the attack may be warded off. For sale by all dealers.

Making Both Ends Meet

Every right-minded man and woman is concerned with the problem of making a definite income cover an elastic expense. income cover an elastic expense. Some one must economize, plan and sacrifice to bring about the saving. Usually the manager in a home is the woman.

The most successful women plan their expenses as a business man plans his. It is easy to let food and clothing run through the pay envelope, and "make the old chair do."

Result—children prefer town to home. Husband has business up town. And the hard working woman wonders what is wrong with her ideals.

Furniture is not necessarily a big portion of your monthly expenditure, but you ought to set aside a little out of each week's wages for beautifying your home.

In the end it will pay big dividends.

You are invited cordially to come in this week and learn about our plan.

THIS LADY'S GOOD APPETITE

Mrs. Hansen, In a Letter From Mobile, Tells How She Gained It.

Mobile, Ala.—"I suffered for seven years, with womanly trouble," writes Mrs. Sigurd Hansen in a letter from this city. "I felt weak and always had a headache and was always going to the doctor. At last I was operated on, and felt better, but soon I had the same trouble.

My husband asked me to try Cardui. I felt better after the first bottle, and now, I have a good appetite and sleep well. I feel fine, and the doctor tells me I am looking better than he ever saw me."

If you are sick and miserable, and suffer from any of the pains due to womanly trouble—try Cardui.

Cardui is successful because it is composed of ingredients that have been found to act curatively on the womanly constitution.

For more than fifty years, it has been used by women of all ages, with great success. Try it. Your druggist sells it.

SEMINARY NOTES.

Interesting Address by Rev. R. D. Tucker on "Optimism."

The Rt. Rev. Beverley D. Tucker, D. D., coadjutor Bishop of the Episcopal Diocese of Southern Virginia, delivered an interesting address on "Optimism," in the Chapel of the Episcopal Seminary, near this city, on Thursday evening last. He said that his address covered about ten decades of a life experience, which had been contemperaneous with some of the most stirring incidents of history, from the fall of Sebastopol, and the Indian mueting through our own great civil war; the rise of Italy as a nation with Rome as its capital, and the passing away of the temporal power of the Pope, with many other stirring events until this present day when we see the Turkish empire falling before the growing strength of the Balkan kingdoms, which have suffered for centuries from the tyrannies of the rulers enthroned at Constantinople. In all these changes we have seen the advancement of many kinds and the steady development of the true spirit of the brotherhood of man.

He also touched upon the wonderful advancement of physical science which has given us power over the forces of nature gives up easy and rapid communication by land and sea with the countries of the world and the quick transmission of news through the telegraph and telephone.

Bishop Tucker then spoke of the great writers of his time beginning with Dickens and laying special emphasis upon the writings of Browning and Tennyson who lifted up standars of high ideals and true human progres in their political works. He showe also how the principles of the teaching of Christ were filling the world, and that while there were dark shadows still in many places yet, every thing conspired together to fill us al with the spirit of optimism and h reminded the students that their lo was cast in the noblest period of th world's history that we have known yet. His address was listened to wit much interest by the audience present

The Rev. Professor Green has returned from Richmond where he went to deliver a Lenter sermon at a union service of certain of Episcopal churches in that city. He reported Dr. Clark, who was seriously ill a much better and about to take a trip to Florida, where his friends hope h will soon regain his full strength.

Prof. Wallis left today for the University of Virginia, where he will preach on Sunday in St. Paul's Episcopal Church for the Rev. Beverley D Tucker, Jr.

Tuesday, March 4th, was a holiday at the Seminary. All the students with one or two exceptions, took advantage of this and went to see President Wilson inaugurated, leaving the Seminary as devoid as if it were the summer vacation.

Miss Elsie Snowden and Miss Nanc Tackett, have been guests at "Oakwood," for a few days this week.

Old House Destroyed.

Louisa, Va., March 8.—"Roundabout the oldest homestead in Louisa county and one of the oldest in this part of Virginia, was destroyed by fire Thursday morning about 11 o'clock. I caught from the chimney. It was the ancestra home of the Johnsons, having been for 200 years in that family to whom the original grant was give early in 1700. The present owner i Mrs. Beverly Ragland Fox, daughte of Thomas Johnson, who was fourt in descent from Thomas Johnson, wh represented Louisa County in th House of Burgesses from 1758 to 177(and was also high sheriff of Louis county.

Many valuable relics were destroyed including family portraits of five generations and a great deal of antiqu mahogany furniture and a rare set o Spanish china brought over to th family about 150 years ago.

Assassination in Teheran.

Teheran, March 8.—Mme. Consant wife of the Belgian director of Customs, was instantly killed and M. Constant was seriously injured by an unidentified Persian assassin early today. The Constants attended a dinner last night and were returning home in a carriage, when from the darkness several revolver shots were fired into the carriage. The man ran away but it was seen that he was a native. M. Constant is an assistant to Treasurer-General Nornard, of Persia. Mornard succeeded the American, W. Morgan Shuster, as treasurer-general when in December 1911, the regent dissolved the Mejiss and dismissed Shuster in compliance with the demands of Russia.
